The River and Harbor Bill Up Again.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—The conferees on the river and harbor appropriation bill have reached an agreement on the bill and a report will be presented this afternoon. The Hennepin canal clause remains with modifications providing for an acceptance by the government of the report and the Michigan canal and the survey of the line of the Hennepin canal, the Potomic flats, New York harbor and other items of business of importance are conceded by the house conferees. No cut is made in items of appropriations less than $20,000.

The senate confirmed the nomination of George A. Jenks to be solicitor general.

Yesterday the Indiana delegation, led by Senator Voorhees, called upon the president in the interest of Col. Stoll and his application for the office of public printer. Though the president said nothing as to whom would be appointed, the delegation retired with the belief that Mr. Stoll's chances were indeed good, and they believe he will be the winner.

AWFUL WRECK.

A Freight Train Plunges Through the Narrow Guage Bridge at Bluffton, Ind.

Bluffton was the scene of a terrible accident this morning. An outgoing freight train on the Narrow Guage railroad broke through the bridge over the Wabash river at Bluffton and plunged into the water in a heap. The bridge fell so quickly that the train men could not escape and they were carried down with the engine and cars. A. M. Porter was held in the debris and steam poured out burning him frightfully and causing almost instant death. Engineer Stepold was so badly burned he cannot live long and two other men received awful injuries in the smash up. The dead fireman was removed from the vice like grip of the interlocking engine and tender. Flesh peeled from his body and it emanated a sickening odor. The agonies of the engineer and the other men were soothed as much as possible and everything that medical skill could do was done for the sufferers. Mr. Porter, the dead fireman, leaves a wife and three children at Marion, Ind.

POLITICS.

What is the Gossip About the Twelfth District?

The Rome City Clipper is about to give up the ghost.

The South Whitley Magnet has unfurled the prohibition banner.

The LaGrange county prohibitionists claim that they will poll at least 400 votes this fall. They have nominated a ticket.

With all his rank and ability as a judge and lawyer the Gazette complains that Hon. Robert Lowry has made no great speeches in congress. Capt. J. B. White, a merchant with no experience in public affairs, cannot hope to do better in a congress of lawyers and statesmen if he were there fourteen years. The leaders in congress to-day are men who have spent most of their active lives there and it is not too late for the Twelfth district to do now what it should have done years ago—leave its ablest man in congress.

The Gazette styles Congressman Lowry the "bummer candidate." The Gazette must not forget that Judge Lowry is just as respectable and honorable as Captain J. B. White or any other man the republicans ever nominated for congress. He has enjoyed the respect, confidence and esteem of the people of this district for a quarter of a century, and our cotemporary ought to know it cannot injure him or lessen his chances of election by personal abuse. Judge Lowry is an intellectual giant, one of the foremost jurists of Indiana, and it is a pity the Gazette has not learned ere this that vituperation is not eloquence nor harsh words a good argument.

The Angola Herald says: "At the county convention in Auburn recently the republicans of DeKalb refused to consider a petition presented by several hundred temperance republicans of that county asking the convention to insert a temperance resolution in its platform of principles, because, as a leading republican of that county explained, 'it would be inconsistent and stultify their action of a few days previous which nominated and endorsed Capt. J. B. White for congress.' Then how can our worthy contemporary reconcile its cordial endorsement of the action of the above convention and its nominee with its earnest appeal to temperance workers to 'vote as you pray?'"

The republican press with the aid of a few democratic journals is distinguishing itself just now by its abuse of Hon. Robert Lowry. These papers pursue a course that must eventually make hundreds of friends for Mr. Lowry where he has not half that number now. Just how a democrat can fall in with the most unscrupulous abuse of a democrat who has stood by his party through thick and thin, and with whom he only entertains a personal difference, is incomprehensible. Judge Lowry has rendered honest and faithful services to his party during its most critical existence, and his official career compares favorably with that of any other congressman, and little personal disappointments here and there do not justify the bitter attacks that are made upon them.—Warsaw Union.

Two young men out riding were passing a farmer's house where a farmer was trying to harness a mule. "Won't he draw?" said one of the horsemen. "Of course he will" said the farmer; "draws the attention of every fool that passes."

GREAT CARDS.

The Coming Attractions at Island Park.

The Grand Army day at Island Park assembly was a memorable one, and the attendance was very large. General O. O. Howard was given an ovation. His lecture on "Gettysburg" was exceptionally fine. Chaplain C. C. McCabe touched on "The Bright Side of Life in Libby Prison," and General Jasper Packard, of Laporte, gave an interesting lecture on "The Opening of the Mississippi," interspersing the same with a serious of stereopticon views that were highly entertaining. The attractions for the coming week will be Wallace Bruce, T. De Witt Talmage, Revs. Sam Jones and Small, James Whitcomb Riley, Washington Gladden and many concerts by the bands, orchestras and vocalists. Talmage lectures Tuesday morning on the "Absurdities of Evolution." Jones lectures Wednesday on 'Quit Your Meanness." Nye and Riley hold forth Thursday.

The program to-morrow is as follows:

11:00 a. m.—Lecture. Rev. T. C. Reade, D. D., Fostoria, O. "The Dutch."

2:30 p. m.—Lecture. Wallace Bruce, Esq., "Ready Wit."

8:00 a. m.—Concert. Under the direction of Prof. C. C. Case, combining the strength of the chorus, the Rogers Goshen band, the Temple quartette and special soloists.

AN ELABORATE TEMPLE

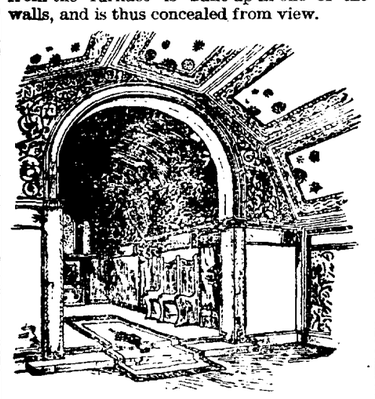

Erected in Buffalo and Dedicated to Cremation.

EXTERIOR CREMATORY.

A magnificent crematory temple has recently been erected in Buffalo. Our first picture gives an excellent idea of its unique exterior.

The building is of brown stone, with a red slate roof. Little attempt is made at decoration, the massiveness of the masonry being the principal architectural feature. The ground plan of the building includes a roomy auditorium, with a seating capacity of 200 or 300, an organ room, a chancel where religious ceremonies may be conducted, together with the furnace room and the necessary reception rooms and offices for conducting the company's business. The basement will be fitted up as a columbarium, with niches in the walls, where urns, containing the ashes of the dead, may be deposited. The high portion of the building in the center is the furnace room proper. The flue from the furnace is built up in one of the walls, and is thus concealed from view.

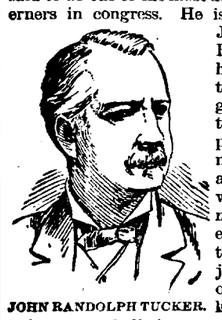

THE ORNATE CHANCEL.

Our second picture shows the chancel of the temple with its scheme of decoration. This is very handsome, being modeled after similar decorations in the Christian churches during the first century of our era.

The chancel will be fitted up with an altar, a lectern and other accessories to the proper carrying out of a religious ceremony. The funeral car which brings the body from the reception room on the left of the chancel crosses it and then enters the furnace room through the second door shown in our sketch. If desired the car may remain in the chancel while the ceremonies are being performed, and at the words "Ashes to ashes," be silently drawn out of sight of the audience into the furnace room.

A Candidate for Solicitor General.

The chairman of the judiciary committee is said to be one of the most accomplished southerners in congress. He is a descendant of John Randolph, of Roanoke, though he does not suggest that eccentric Virginian of generations ago in any particular. He is now 63 years old, and his florid face, white, overhanging mustache and blue eyes, look as though they might have jumped from some old portrait. He likes society, is said to be a great ladies' man and is a good story teller. He is full of humor, and his heart is as kind as that of any man in congress. He was for eight years attorney general of Virginia, and was professor of law at Washington and Lee university. He has served in congress since 1875. It was supposed that he would retire to private life, as he has announced his objection to re-election. His selection as solicitor general would place him in a position for which he is eminently qualified.

Chicago all Broke Up Again by a Panic in the Corn Market.

A CYCLONE

Pays its Respects to Columbus, Ohio.

COLUMBUS, July 30.—A terrific rain and wind storm from the northwest passed over this city at 2 p. m., breaking down trees and doing damage to a great number of houses. A portion of the roof of the Union depot was blown off, the Columbus rolling mill building was blown down and several persons are reported injured, but none killed so far as learned.

SEDALIA, Mo., July 30.—A refreshing rain fell this morning and cooled the atmosphere and revived drooping vegitation and crops.

WICHITA, Kas., July 30.—There is a heavy rain-fall in this portion of the Arkansas valley. It has poured steadily down with little or no indications of a stop. Grass, corn, potatoes and other crops are now in a very promising condition.

EXCITED.

The Chicago Market Goes all to Pieces.

CHICAGO, July 30.—The signal service reports cloudy and rainy weather from the corn belt this morning. In Kansas there was considerable rain last night, one and a half inches having fallen. There was also light showers in Nebraska, Iowa, Dakota, Arkansas and in some parts of Wisconsin.

The corn market went all to pieces at the start, in consequence of the reports. Before change opened, most anybody would have jumped at an offer of 45c. for September corn, a decline of one cent from yesterday's close. The market opened 44⅞c; declined to 44⅛c, but it is now, (10 a. m) at 45⅛c for September and 47⅞c@43¼c. for October.

The Monroeville Breeze pays this compliment to Dr. J. M. Dinnen: "During the doctor's term he has been prompt and faithful when called upon to attend to the mournful duties of his office. He has made many friends during the past two years who join us in urging his rights to a second term."

There was a pleasant dance at Cartwright's hall, Arcola, last night. A bad crowd gathered in the town and did everything mean and contemptible. Mr. Will. Cartwright threw one Jerry Cretsy out of the dance hall. A fight followed in the street and Jim McDonald, a brother to Sam McDonald, who was hung, received a bullet in his carcass. Another man was stabbed and the thieves stole the ivory rings off of Frank Cosgrove's hack harness.

Post-Mortem Usefulness.

North American pork is, after all, not the worst in the market. From Cape Tiburon, Hayti, comes a story that eclipses anything the Prussian protectionists ever charged on our Yankee butchers. Three brothers, sons of the negro pilot Marsette, left their home on the beach and began to supply the market of Tiburon and Grand Guave with meat. Their specialty was an attractive variety of fresh pork steaks that found a ready sale, till one day a storm-flood washed out a sand-bar at the mouth of a neighboring bayou and revealed a whole abattoir of carved human corpses. Suspicion at once pointed to the Marsette boys, who at the time were absent on one of their weekly cruises, but were caught the next night in the act of landing a fresh cargo of victims. They seem to have procured their subjects, as medical students would term it, by cruising along the coast and raiding solitary fishermen's cabins and jungle-ranchos.

Conscious cannibalism is, however, by no means confined to the Feejee Islands. The Rio Virgen tribes of the Arancanos Indians, on the northern coast of Chili, do not hesitate in hard winter to keep the pot boiling by slicing up a few of their superfluous relatives; and Dr. Nachtigall is positive that the country north and east of the Congo is swarming with two-legged man-eaters. The Dyaks of Borneo, who gather skulls as our red men used to gather scalps, now and then eat a personal enemy as a matter of hygienic precaution, on the theory that the wizard spells of the dead man's relatives can thus be rendered ineffectual. Sporadic cases of cannibalism occur in every East Indian famine. The nations of Europe alone are in that respect total abstainers, at present at least, for Roman traditions date back to a time when the Laestrygones of southern Italy kept special stock-yards for fattening their prisoners of war.

A New Story of Daniel Webster.

On one occasion some Boston friends sent him as a present an enormous sized plow to use on his place. Webster gave out word that on a certain day it would be christened. The day arrived, and the surrounding farmers for miles came in to witness the event. A dozen teams with aristocratic occupants came down from Boston. It was expected by everyone that Webster would make a great speech on the occasion, reviewing the history of farming back to the time when Cincinnatus abdicated the most mighty throne in the world to cultivate turnips and cabbages in his Roman garden. The plow was brought out and ten yokes of splendid oxen hitched in front. More than 200 people stood around on the tiptoe of expectation. Soon Webster made his appearance. He had been calling spirits from the vasty deep, and his gait was somewhat uncertain. Seizing the plow handles and spreading his feet he yelled out to his driver in his deep bass voice:

"Are you all ready, Mr. Wright?"

"All ready, Mr. Webster," was the reply, meaning of course for his speech.

Webster straightened himself up by a mighty effort and shouted:

"Then let her rip!"

The whole crowd dropped to the ground and roared with laughter, while Webster with his big plow proceeded to rip up the soil.—Belfast (Me.) Journal.

The pain and misery suffered by those who are afflicted with dyspepsia are indescribable. The distress of the body is equalled or surpassed by the confusion and tortures of the mind, thus making its victims suffer double affliction. The relief which is given by Hood's Sarsaparilla has caused thousands to be thankful for this great medicine. It dispels the caure of dyspepsia, and tones up the digestive organs. Try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"The Proper Study of Mankind is Man," says the illustrious Pope If he had included woman in the list, he would have been nearer the truth, if not so poetical. Dr. R. V. Pierce has made them both a life study, especially woman, and the peculiar derangements to which her delicate system is liable. Many women in the land who are acquainted with Dr. Pierce only through his "Favorite Prescriptions," bless him with all their hearts, for he has brought them the panacea for all those chronic ailments peculiar to their sex; such as leucorrhoea, prolapsus and other displacements, ulcerations, "internal fever," bloating tendency to internal cancer, and other ailments. Price reduced to one dollar. By druggists.

LOCAL LINES.

Postmaster Kaough has returned from South Bend.

A. E. Thomas, of Fort Wayne, was at Indianapolis yesterday.

The superintendent of the Nickel Plate has promised Claypool a new depot.

Gart Shober, city editor of the Journal, is mingling with the military gentlemen at Lafayette.

Mrs. Will Dreier, Mrs. Al. Noll and Mrs. A. Golden, of Fort Wayne are visiting Mrs. J. T. McCardle, at Lafayette.

Mr. Frank H. Wolke has returned from Iowa, where he met with great success in the interest of the Anthony Wayne washer.

Mrs. N. W. Thompson, of Fort Wayne and Miss Minnie Bullard, Allegan, Mich., are visiting Mr. J. B. Messinger, at Logansport.

A telegram to the Indianapolis News says that company A, of Terre Haute, excelled company L, of Fort Wayne, in the prize drill yesterday.

The eighth annual reunion of the surviving members of the 44th regiment Indiana volunteers, will be held at Fort Ind., on Wednesday, Oct. 13, 1886.

Wm. Clem, the farmer who drew $15,000 in the Louisiana lottery, is in the city and has been for a week. He enjoys all the airs of the capitalist now.

The Fort Wayne rifles, accompanied by Brown's military band, went from Lafayette to Lebanon yesterday morning to act as a military escort to Governor Gray and the members of his staff.

The Indianapolis News says: "Fort Wayne has secured the Middle States' fair circuit, and will hold an inter-state fair from September 14 to 17. The Central Fall Trotting circuitf of which Fort Wayne is also a member, has changed its dates so that it will meet in that place during fair week."

The Warsaw Times says: "The Inter-State Fair association—formerly the Northern Indiana—will hold its annual fair this year, beginning September 14 and continuing till the 17th, both days inclusive, at Fort Wayne. It promises to be a big thing, and this paper will have more to say of it in future numbers."

THE BIG FAIR.

An Enterprise that Fort Wayne Should Feel Proud Of.

Never before in the history of the northern Indiana Fair association has the outlook been so favorable as it now is. The date is yet early, but the indications are more promising than they have ever been at so distant a date. The fair commences Sept. 14, just six weeks from next Tuesday, and the projectors are already busily engaged in making preparations for the great exhibit. The lithographers have commenced work and in a short time every dead wall in the entire surrounding country will be illuminated with showy lithographs and attractive posters. The Inter-State Fair association has determined to spare no expense in thoroughly advertising it, and expect to attract the largest crowd ever seen in Fort Wayne upon any occasion. THE SENTINEL can not too strongly impress upon the merchants of Fort Wayne the importance of preparing handsome displays of their various goods. There will be persons here from all portions of the state and many from other states, and it behooves Fort Wayne to make as handsome a display as possible. The gentlemen of the association have been to a great deal of expense in making improvements upon the grounds and in the building of the track, and local people should show their appreciation of their efforts in turning out in a body and aid them to make their enterprise a success. The track at the grounds is now considered one of the fastest half mile tracks in the west, and it has been brought to its present degree of perfection only by a large expenditure of money and hard labor. The stock exhibit will also be unusually large, entries having already been received from Missouri and Iowa, and from some of the finest stock breeders in Indiana and Ohio. The field of horses will be exceptionally fine, and will include some of the fastest steppers in the country. The Latonia races, at Covington, Ky., are considered one of the leading turf events for each year, and when it is known that these races are in the some circuit as Fort Wayne, and that the same field of horses will be here, further comment on this subject is not necessary. Let everybody be alive to the fact that the coming fair will be the largest and most elaborate ever attempted here, and let everyone endeavor with good words and good will to encourage its success as much as possible.

Pure blood is absolutely necessary in order to enjoy perfect health. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood and strengthens the system.

The final settlement of Wabash affairs seem as far off as ever. When a United States judge puts a railroad into the hands of a receiver, the latter is very loath to give up a fat job, especially as the pay runs from ten to seventy-five dollars per day.

The Excelsior Fishing club, composed of Messrs. A. J. Friend, Will Friend, Charles Lewis, Harry Bubin, I. Sellburg and Joseph Lohman, of Fort Wayne, and Louie Stiefel are rusticating at Lake James," says the Angola Herald.

The River and Harbor Bill Up Again.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—The conferees on the river and harbor appropriation bill have reached an agreement on the bill and a report will be presented this afternoon. The Hennepin canal clause remains with modifications providing for an acceptance by the government of the report and the Michigan canal and the survey of the line of the Hennepin canal, the Potomic flats, New York harbor and other items of business of importance are conceded by the house conferees. No cut is made in items of appropriations less than $20,000.

AWFUL WRECK.

A Freight Train Plunges Through the Narrow Guage Bridge at Bluffton, Ind.

Bluffton was the scene of a terrible accident this morning. An outgoing freight train on the Narrow Guage railroad broke through the bridge over the Wabash river at Bluffton and plunged into the water in a heap. The bridge fell so quickly that the train men could not escape and they were carried down with the engine and cars. A. M. Porter was held in the debris and steam poured out burning him frightfully and causing almost instant death. Engineer Stepold was so badly burned he cannot live long and two other men received awful injuries in the smash up. The dead fireman was removed from the vice like grip of the interlocking engine and tender. Flesh peeled from his body and it emanated a sickening odor. The agonies of the engineer and the other men were soothed as much as possible and everything that medical skill could do was done for the sufferers. Mr. Porter, the dead fireman, leaves a wife and three children at Marion, Ind.

POLITICS.

What is the Gossip About the Twelfth District?

The Rome City Clipper is about to give up the ghost.

The South Whitley Magnet has unfurled the prohibition banner.

The LaGrange county prohibitionists claim that they will poll at least 400 votes this fall. They have nominated a ticket.

With all his rank and ability as a judge and lawyer the Gazette complains that Hon. Robert Lowry has made no great speeches in congress. Capt. J. B. White, a merchant with no experience in public affairs, cannot hope to do better in a congress of lawyers and statesmen if he were there fourteen years. The leaders in congress to-day are men who have spent most of their active lives there and it is not too late for the Twelfth district to do now what it should have done years ago—leave its ablest man in congress.

The Gazette styles Congressman Lowry the "hummer candidate." The Gazette must not forget that Judge Lowry is just as respectable and honorable as Captain J. B. White or any other man the republicans ever nominated for congress. He has enjoyed the respect, confidence and esteem of the people of this district for a quarter of a century, and our cotemporary ought to know it cannot injure him or lessen his chances of election by personal abuse. Judge Lowry is an intellectual giant, one of the foremost jurists of Indiana, and it is a pity the Gazette has not learned ere this that vituperation is not eloquence nor harsh words a good argument.

The Angola Herald says: "At the county convention in Auburn recently the republicans of DeKalb refused to consider a petition presented by several hundred temperance republicans of that county asking the convention to insert a temperance resolution in its platform of principles, because, as a leading republican of that county explained, 'it would be inconsistent and stultify their action of a few days previous which nominated and endorsed Capt. J. B. White for congress.' Then how can our worthy contemporary reconcile its cordial endorsement of the action of the above convention and its nominee with its earnest appeal to temperance workers to 'vote as you pray?'"

The republican press with the aid of a few democratic journals is distinguishing itself just now by its abuse of Hon. Robert Lowry. These papers pursue a course that must eventually make hundreds of friends for Mr. Lowry where he has not half that number now. Just how a democrat can fall in with the most unscrupulous abuse of a democrat who has stood by his party through thick and thin, and with whom he only entertains a personal difference, is incomprehensible. Judge Lowry has rendered honest and faithful services to his party during its most critical existence, and his official career compares favorably with that of any other congressman, and little personal disappointments here and there do not justify the bitter attacks that are made upon them.—Warsaw Union.

GREAT CARDS.

The Coming Attractions at Island Park.

The Grand Army day at Island Park assembly was a memorable one, and the attendance was very large. General O. O. Howard was given an ovation. His lecture on "Gettysburg" was exceptionally fine. Chaplain C. C. McCabe touched on "The Bright Side of Life in Libby Prison," and General Jasper Packard, of Laporte, gave an interesting lecture on "The Opening of the Mississippi," interspersing the same with a serious of stereopticon views that were highly entertaining. The attractions for the coming week will be Wallace Bruce, T. De Witt Talmage, Revs. Sam Jones and Small, James Whitcomb Riley, Washington Gladden and many concerts by the bands, orchestras and vocalists. Talmage lectures Tuesday morning on the "Absurdities of Evolution." Jones lectures Wednesday on 'Quit Your Meanness." Nye and Riley hold forth Thursday.

The program to-morrow is as follows: 11:00 a. m.—Lecture. Rev. T. C. Reade, D. D., Fostoria, O. "The Dutch."

2:30 p. m.—Lecture. Wallace Bruce, Esq., "Ready Wit."

8:00 a. m.—Concert. Under the direction of Prof. C. C. Case, combining the strength of the chorus, the Rogers Goshen band, the Temple quartette and special soloists.

AN ELABORATE TEMPLE

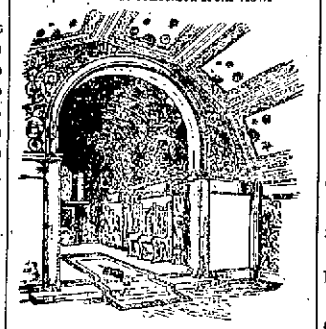

Erected in Buffalo and Dedicated to Cremation.

EXTERIOR CREMATORY.

A magnificent crematory temple has recently been erected in Buffalo. Our first picture gives an excellent idea of its unique exterior.

The building is of brown stone, with a red slate roof. Little attempt is made at decoration, the massiveness of the masonry being the principal architectural feature. The ground plan of the building includes a roomy auditorium, with a seating capacity of 300 or 800, an organ room, a chancel where religious ceremonies may be conducted, together with the furnace room and the necessary reception rooms and offices for conducting the company's business. The basement will be fitted up as a columbarium, with niches in the walls, where urns, containing the ashes of the dead, may be deposited. The high portion of the building in the center is the furnace room proper. The flue from the furnace is built up in one of the walls, and is thus concealed from view.

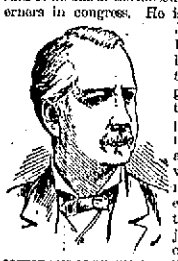

THE ORNATE CHANCEL.

Our second picture shows the chancel of the temple with its scheme of decoration. This is very handsome, being modeled after similar decorations in the Christian churches during the first century of our era.

The chancel will be fitted up with an altar, a lectern and other accessories to the proper carrying out of a religious ceremony. The funeral car which brings the body from the reception room on the left of the chancel crosses it and then enters the furnace room through the second door shown in our sketch. If desired the car may remain in the chancel while the ceremonies are being performed, and at the words "Ashes to ashes," be silently drawn out of sight of the audience into the furnace room.

A Candidate for Solicitor General.

The chairman of the judiciary committee is said to be one of the most accomplished southerners in congress. He is a descendant of John Randolph, of Roanoke, though he does not suggest that eccentric Virginian of generations ago in any particular. He is now 63 years old, and his florid face, white, overhanging mustache and blue eyes, look as though they might have jumped from some old portrait. He likes society, is said to be a great ladies' man and is a good story teller. He is full of humor, and his heart is as kind as that of any man in congress. He was for eight years attorney general of Virginia, and was professor of law at Washington and Lee university. He has served in congress since 1875. It was supposed that he would retire to private life, as he has announced his objection to re-election. His selection as solicitor general would place him in a position for which he is eminently qualified.

The Chicago Market Goes all to Pieces.

CHICAGO, July 30.—The signal service reports cloudy and rainy weather from the corn belt this morning. In Kansas there was considerable rain last night, one and a half inches having fallen. There was also light showers in Nebraska, Iowa, Dakota, Arkansas and in some parts of Wisconsin.

The corn market went all to pieces at the start, in consequence of the reports. Before change opened, most anybody would have jumped at an offer of 45c. for September corn, a decline of one cent from yesterday's close. The market opened 44¾c; declined to 44½c, but it is now, (10 a. m) at 45¾c for September and 47⅞c@48¼c. for October.

Post-Mortem Usefulness.

North American pork is, after all, not the worst in the market. From Cape Tiburon, Hayti, comes a story that eclipses anything the Prussian protectionists ever charged on our Yankee butchers. Three brothers, sons of the negro pilot Marsette, left their home on the beach and began to supply the market of Tiburon and Grand Guave with meat. Their specialty was an attractive variety of fresh pork steaks that found a ready sale, till one day a storm-flood washed out a sand-bar at the mouth of a neighboring bayou and revealed a whole abattoir of carved human corpses. Suspicion at once pointed to the Marsette boys, who at the time were absent on one of their weekly cruises, but were caught the next night in the act of landing a fresh cargo of victims. They seem to have procured their subjects, as medical students would term it, by cruising along the coast and raiding solitary fishermen's cabins and jungle-ranchos.

Conscious cannibalism is, however, by no means confined to the Feejee Islands. The Rio Virgen tribes of the Araucanos Indians, on the northern coast of Chili, do not hesitate in hard winter to keep the pot boiling by slicing up a few of their superfluous relatives; and Dr. Nachtigall is positive that the country north and east of the Congo is swarming with two-legged man-eaters. The Dyaks of Borneo, who gather skulls as our red men used to gather scalps, now and then eat a personal enemy as a matter of hygienic precaution, on the theory that the wizard spells of the dead man's relatives can thus be rendered inoffectual. Sporadic cases of cannibalism occur in every East Indian famine. The nations of Europe alone are in that respect total abstainers, at present at least, for Roman traditions date back to a time when the Lestrygonos of southern Italy kept special stock-yards for fattening their prisoners of war.

A New Story of Daniel Webster.

On one occasion some Boston friends sent him as a present an enormous sized plow to use on his place. Webster gave out word that on a certain day it would be christened. The day arrived, and the surrounding farmers for miles came in to witness the event. A dozen teams with aristocratic occupants came down from Boston. It was expected by everyone that Webster would make a great speech on the occasion, reviewing the history of farming back to the time when Cincinnatus abdicated the most mighty throne in the world to cultivate turnips and cabbages in his Roman garden. The plow was brought out and ten yokes of splendid oxen hitched in front. More than 200 people stood around on the tiptoe of expectation. Soon Webster made his appearance. He had been calling spirits from the vasty deep, and his gait was somewhat uncertain. Seizing the plow handles and spreading his feet he yelled out to his driver in his deep bass voice:

"Are you all ready, Mr. Wright?"

"All ready, Mr. Webster," was the reply, meaning of course for his speech.

Webster straightened himself up by a mighty effort and shouted:

"Then let her rip!"

The whole crowd dropped to the ground and roared with laughter, while Webster with his big plow proceeded to rip up the soil.—Belfast (Me.) Journal.

The pain and misery suffered by those who are afflicted with dyspepsia are indescribaple. The distress of the body is equalled or surpassed by the confusion and tortures of the mind, thus making its victims suffer double affliction. The relief which is given by Hood's Sarsaparilla has caused thousands to be thankful for this great medicine. It dispels the cause of dyspepsia, and tones up the digestive organs. Try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"The Proper Study of Mankind is Man," says the illustrious Pope. If he had included woman in the list, he would have been nearer the truth, if not so poetical. Dr. R. V. Pierce has made them both a life study, especially woman, and the peculiar derangements to which her delicate system is liable. Many women in the land who are acquainted with Dr. Pierce only through his "Favorite Prescriptions," bless him with all their hearts, for he has brought them the panacea for all those chronic ailments peculiar to their sex; such as leucorrhoea, prolapsus and other displacements, ulcerations, "internal fever," bloating tendency to internal cancer, and other ailments. Price reduced to one dollar. By druggists.

LOCAL LINES.

Postmaster Keough has returned from South Bend.

A. E. Thomas, of Fort Wayne, was at Indianapolis yesterday.

The superintendent of the Nickel Plate has promised Claypool a new depot.

Gart Shober, city editor of the Journal, is mingling with the military gentlemen at Lafayette.

Mrs. Will Dreier, Mrs. Al. Noll and Mrs. A. Golden, of Fort Wayne are visiting Mrs. J. T. McCardle, at Lafayette.

Mr. Frank H. Wolke has returned from Iowa, where he met with great success in the interest of the Anthony Wayne washer.

Mrs. N. W. Thompson, of Fort Wayne and Miss Minnie Bullard, Allegan, Mich., are visiting Mr. J. B. Messinger, at Logansport.

A telegram to the Indianapolis News says that company A, of Terre Haute, excelled company L, of Fort Wayne, in the prize drill yesterday.

The eighth annual reunion of the surviving members of the 44th regiment Indiana volunteers, will be held at Fort Ind., on Wednesday, Oct. 13, 1886.

Wm. Clem, the farmer who drew $15,000 in the Louisiana lottery, is in the city and has been for a week. He enjoys all the airs of the capitalist now.

The Fort Wayne rifles, accompanied by Brown's military band, went from Lafayette to Lebanon yesterday morning to act as a military escort to Governor Gray and the members of his staff.

The Indianapolis News says: "Fort Wayne has secured the Middle States' fair circuit, and will hold an inter-state fair from September 14 to 17. The Central Fall Trotting circuit of which Fort Wayne is also a member, has changed its dates so that it will meet in that place during fair week."

The Warsaw Times says: "The Inter-State Fair association—formerly the Northern Indiana—will hold its annual fair this year, beginning September 14 and continue till the 17th, both days inclusive, at Fort Wayne. It promises to be a big thing, and this paper will have more to say of it in future numbers."

THE BIG FAIR.

An Enterprise that Fort Wayne Should Feel Proud Of.

Never before in the history of the northern Indiana Fair association has the outlook been so favorable as it now is. The date is yet early, but the indications are more promising than they have ever been at so distant a date. The fair commences Sept. 14, just six weeks from next Tuesday, and the projectors are already busily engaged in making preparations for the great exhibit. The lithographers have commenced work and in a short time every dead wall in the entire surrounding country will be illuminated with showy lithographs and attractive posters. The Inter-State Fair association has determined to spare no expense in thoroughly advertising it, and expect to attract the largest crowd ever seen in Fort Wayne upon any occasion. THE SENTINEL can not too strongly impress upon the merchants of Fort Wayne the importance of preparing handsome displays of their various goods. There will be persons here from all portions of the state and many from other states, and it behooves Fort Wayne to make as handsome a display as possible. The gentlemen of the association have been to a great deal of expense in making improvements upon the grounds and in the building of the track, and local people should show their appreciation of their efforts in turning out in a body and aid them to make their enterprise a success. The track at the grounds is now considered one of the fastest half mile tracks in the west, and it has been brought to its present degree of perfection only by a large expenditure of money and hard labor. The stock exhibit will also be unusually large, entries having already been received from Missouri and Iowa, and from some of the finest stock breeders in Indiana and Ohio. The field of horses will be exceptionally fine, and will include some of the fastest steppers in the country. The Latonia races, at Covington, Ky., are considered one of the leading turf events for each year, and when it is known that these races are in the same circuit as Fort Wayne, and that the same field of horses will be here, further comment on this subject is not necessary. Let everybody be alive to the fact that the coming fair will be the largest and most elaborate ever attempted here, and let everyone endeavor with good words and good will to encourage its success as much as possible.

Pure blood is absolutely necessary in order to enjoy perfect health. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood and strengthens the system.

The final settlement of Wabash affairs seem as far off as ever. When a United States judge puts a railroad into the hands of a receiver, the latter is very loath to give up a fat job, especially as the pay runs from ten to seventy-five dollars per day.

The Excelsior Fishing club, composed of Messrs. A. J. Friend, Will Friend, Charles Lowis, Harry Bubin, I. Sellburg and Joseph Lohman, of Fort Wayne, and Louis Stiefel are rusticating at Lake James," says the Angola Herald.

THE SENTINEL to-day publishes the reports of the county auditor and treasurer. Every taxpayer can read them and see that their affairs are open as a book. The county has nothing to fear or nothing to hide, so legitimately is every dollar expended.

The driver for Hartman & Rose, the grocers, is laid up for repairs to-day. Yesterday he hauled some barrels of waste out beyond White's spoke factory. OLD PROBIBILITY

Predicts hot weather for some time to come. Lay in your summer goods; you will have use for them for three months to come.

PRICES, not themselves, CUT UP, RIPPED UP and CHANGED TO REDUCE THE STOCK!

We certainly have as handsome a stock of Men's, Boys' and Children's clothing as can be found, with the prices cut down to a figure ridiculously low. From $8 to $1 cut away from the original low price of Men's suits and everything marked down, in some instances to less than cost.

"Room Wanted" at our Place.
